DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 8-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either of Watanabe or Kanai in view of Haraguchi et al, all of record, or as unpatentable over Haraguchi et al in view of either of Watanabe or Kanai. Haraguchi et al discloses a folded paper material wound on a tubular shaft member. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to support a roll of paper in folded form on the tubular shaft members of either of Watanabe or Kanai in view of the showing of Haraguchi et al. Alternatively, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to form notches in the inner wall surface of the tubular member of Haraguchi et al to engage similar formations on a supporting spindle in view of the teaching of either of Watanabe or Kanai. Merely supporting a particular type of rolled material on either of Watanabe or Kanai, or providing a different old and well known type of connection between a spindle shaft and a tubular roll support member in Haraguchi et al are seen to have been considerations well within the purview of one of ordinary skill in the art.

3. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies i.e., that the thin portion of the tubular member is able to "easily bend and has greater flexibility as compared with the uncut portion so that it is better able to absorb the aforementioned compressing force" are not recited in the rejected claims nor are they included in the description of the invention. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993). While it is agreed that Watanabe and Kanai teach no more than that the grooves on the inner wall of the cores or tubular members engaging the projections on their respective supporting devices to prevent relative rotation therebetween, the claimed subject matter fails to set forth anything more than a drive connection between the tubular member and a supporting spindle.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
